Board, composed of senior energy officials from each member country 6 and meeting about four times per year. Day-to-day operations are conducted by the IEA Secretariat, headed by an Executive Director and comprising a professional staff of about 150 energy experts drawn from member countries. IEA also receives the input of the IEA Industry Advisory Board, which has private sector representatives from member countries and meets three to four times a year. The United States is significantly involved in IEA activities, according to U. S. and IEA officials. The Deputy Executive Director is traditionally an American. The DOE Assistant Secretary for Policy and International Affairs and the Department of State Deputy Assistant Secretary for Energy, Sanctions, and Commodities both serve on the Governing Board and play an active role. U. S. energy officials participate on almost every standing group and committee as either a Chair or Vice-chair. In addition, the United States has historically provided about 25 percent of IEAs annual...
