In the eighth grade 25 schools offer no optional subject; 6 permit a choice between domestic science or manual training and a foreign language; 9 offer language as the only elective. In the ninth grade greater freedom of choice is given. Only one school offers no optional subject; three offer language alone; and one offers only a choice between language and manual training or domestic science. Seventh Grade J75 Schools) 1-J Bighth Grade (75 Schools J I CHABT 2 Proportion Of Schools Offering Electives (solid Line) And Not Offering Electives (broken Line) In The 7th, 8th And 9th Grades According to these tables, the backbone of the curriculum for the first two junior-high-school years consists of English, social science, and mathematics. Real differentiation is not under way. If the curricula from which the tables are compiled are representative, the average curriculum for the first year of the junior high school is: English (6 periods per week), with reading, writing, grammar, spelling and penmanship taught separately or in rather poor coordination under the general heading; social science (5), presented as history and geography; mathematics (5), meaning arithmetic; physiology and hygiene (3) or physical training (2); drawing (2) and perhaps music (2); manual training (2) or domestic science (2). For the second junior-high-school year the average curriculum is: English (5)--much the same as that in the first year; history (5) or...
